

Mid Face & Lower Facial Rejuvenation

by Dr. Coley

Aging changes associated with mid face include the "hollowness" and dark areas under the eyes, the loss of those protuberant cheeks, the downward drift to the nose, the prominent grooves between the base of the nose and the corner of the lips (nasolabial folds), and a loss of fullness to the lips.

Both non-surgical and surgical procedures may help one achieve that more youthful appearance. Botox plays less of a role in mid facial rejuvenation, however, fillers (Restylane, Juvederm, Radiesse) are good for treating fine lines and wrinkles and loss of volume in the cheeks, nasolabial folds, and in and around the lips. These fillers generally last for several months and can make a dramatic difference with little to no down time.

Other non-surgical means of giving the skin and face a healthier appearance include IPL (intense pulse light), laser resurfacing, and chemical peels. These therapies treat sun damaged skin, brown and red spots, superficial blood vessels, scars and skin irregularities, and unwanted hair.

At times, however, these non-surgical means are not sufficient to restore the look and appearance that one desires, and surgery becomes necessary. Mid facial lifts and cheek implants restore the fullness in the cheek area and at times soften the nasolabial fold areas. Rhinoplasty (nasal surgery) is available to raise a drooping nose, to remove that "hump" on the bridge, and to narrow and reshape the nose to create harmony to the face. Fillers, fat transfers, laser and dermabrasion may be performed at the same setting to maximize the transformation to a new "younger" you.

Lower facial rejuvenation focuses on several main areas: the chin, the jaw line (jowls), and the neck. Fillers have a role in the fine lines and wrinkles around the mouth, however, surgical procedures such as chin implants for a weak chin, neck liposuction for that double chin and banding, and face lifts for recreation of that youthful neck, jaw-line, and face are the mainstays to "subtract" years from your appearance.
